Why On Site!

As an educator, you witness our future through the students you meet every day in your school. We share your commitment to provide them with the best education possible, and as professional's in the community, we know first hand the value and importance of excellence in science, math, and language arts.

That is why The Upper Rio Grande Tech-Prep and Youth Consortium & The Associated General Contractors of America have partnered to create On Site! This program is an all-exclusive curriculum that provides life-skill applications of math, science, social studies, and language arts for middle school students. Additionally, On Site! is designed to meet national educational standards and standards of learning objectives in these subjects.

The materials contained in the On Site! tool kit is structured to teach seventh and eighth grade students about the construction industry and its vast career opportunities.

Each instructor will receive an On Site! tool kit which includes:

1. A 25 minute video on the "Most Astounding Structures" developed by the Discovery Channel.
2. A comprehensive teaching guide.
3. 60 Student Activity books.
4. A floating concrete kit.
5. Building materials for the hands-on activities.
